International Conference Believed Necessary to Bring About Settlement In Near East.

By Associated Press

London.—The impression is growing here that a Turkish peace can only be arranged in a large international conference in which Russia, Rumania, Bulgaria and other Balkan states participate. This impression is based in part upon the renewed expression of Russia's attitude regarding the straits of the Dardanelles, as contained in her note of protest against the allied action in Constantinople, sent recently to Great Britain in which she demands the question be settled primarily by the powers that use the Black sea as an outlet to the ocean.

Friday afternoon the British cabinet will meet in full session to discuss the myriad political phases of the situation brought on by the Turkish victory.

The question whether Turkey shall be permitted to occupy eastern Thrace at least, is believed not to be considered vital here. In some quarters, indeed, it is argued that with Turkey in Thrace she would best give Europe a military hold on her. The most important problem, it is conceded, is the question of the control of the straits.

RUSSIA PROTESTS

Moscow.—A note of protest against the allied action in Constantinople has been sent to Great Britain by the Soviet government which takes the stand that the allies have acted entirely according to their own wishes and against the interests of Russia, Turkey, Ukraine and Georgia.

The fate of the straits must be decided by the states bordering on the Black Sea, says the note, and Russia will not recognize any decision which contradicts this point of view.

FEAR DISRUPTION

The one sentiment which dominates all is fear lest France, although agreeing to maintenance of the neutrality of Constantinople, and the straits of the Dardanelles, may interpret the "legitimate aspirations" of the Turks in such a manner as to prevent the cooperation of Great Britain.

If the fear regarding the French position is removed, the other fears will be immediately lessened, but at present they are acute. Turkish military aggression is feared. Military activity in the Balkans is feared, incursion of the Russian Soviets into the troubled area is feared, while behind all is the restless menace of the immense Moslem population of India and the other communities.

AMUNDSON GIVES UP POLE FLIGHT, REPORT

By Associated Press
Nome, Alaska.—Information from a reliable source received here Thursday was to the effect that Captain Amundson would not attempt this year his proposed flight across the north pole to Greenland as was reported recently from Copenhagen. Amundson, who was last reported at Wainwright, 100 miles southeast of point Barrow, Alaska, plans to spend the winter there, according to this information.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Salem, Ore.—R. M. Brumfield, convicted of the murder of Dennis Russell, committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell.

If I Went to College

And wanted to earn part of my expenses during the college year I would soon find plenty of work. People are always ready to help a student who wants to work his way through college if they know that he is willing to work. I would tell Appleton people that I wanted to work. I would tell practically every person in the city. I would use a Want Ad in the Post-Crescent for several days or as often as I needed it to keep busy. Post-Crescent Want Ads are the quickest and most economical means of finding work that I ever heard of.

GALA EVENTS MARK OPENING OF HIGHWAY 15

Motorcade Arrives in City—Exercises Are Held at City Park in Celebration

By Associated Press

Appleton fell in line Thursday with the motorcade celebrating the opening of state trunk highway 15, the last concrete stretch of which was completed a few weeks ago. It was a new sensation to the many motorist enthusiasts to know that they were driving on a continuous ribbon of concrete high 180 miles in the state and over 600 miles from St. Louis to Green Bay.

The part Appleton played in the development of this highway was impressed upon the visitors, including Governor Blaine, former Gov. Phillip, mayors and other officers of cities on the route, as well as representatives of highway organizations.

Two uniformed motorcycle officers of the Milwaukee police force led the procession, followed by the Sentinel Pathfinder and other official cars. Appleton celebrants awaited the visitors at City park where a brief program was held Thursday afternoon.

The episode has not served to diminish but to intensify the feeling of competition between the shipping interests of the two countries. The British are naturally solicitous about their carrying trade—they believe they need it to pay their war debts and keep their commercial advantages of the past. The United States shipping board if incompetently managed will not disturb the British.

What they fear most is that the government here will really make progress in the shipping business or worse yet, that private American interests will be able to reach a degree of efficiency not possible under American government operation.

COMPETITION KEEN

Naturally American officials look askance at what they consider the conspiracies of competition. One hears tales of British intimidation of American consuls throughout the world. If, for instance, an American consul is removed and the cause has no connection with shipping, rumors are said to be propagated to make other consuls believe they too will lose their posts if they work too conspicuously in favor of American trade and shipping.

The latest incident which has aroused the ire of officials here, however, is the persistent rumors of change in management of the United States Shipping board. These rumors are believed to have for their object the undermining of confidence in the shipping board so that those who may be thinking of making contracts with the board will be dissuaded.

FALSE RUMOR

Only Tuesday of this week the tickers in New York city carried the rumors of the alleged resignation of Albert D. Lasker as chairman of the shipping board. The long distance telephones were kept busy with inquiries. Nobody here knows how the rumor got started and the natural inference is that somebody interested in seeing it circulated gave it currency.

The fact is that Mr. Lasker has no intention of resigning and that President Harding has absolute confidence in him and his already effective reconstruction of the shipping board's affairs. It is an open secret in Washington that no man in the national capital has Mr. Harding more confidence than he has in the ability of the man he has chosen to do the task assigned.

MOTHER AND TOTS HURLED FROM AUTO

Cicero and Menasha Families
Escape Serious Injuries
in Collision

Several persons were injured, none seriously, in an automobile collision Wednesday night two miles north of Black Creek. The cars belonged to Charles Thomas of Cicero and Alfred Christopherson, 456 Mantowoc-st., Menasha, each of whom had their families with them.

Mrs. Christopherson and two small children were thrown through the side curtains of the car into the ditch and escaped with a few slight bruises and cuts. Mrs. Thomas was cut in the face and her husband and son had their scalps lacerated. Mr. Thomas suffered several cuts on his hands. Both automobiles were damaged.

Two cars were damaged on the Mackville road on Wednesday evening as the result of a double collision in front of the residence of Herman Winters, Route 4. A gravel wagon going north on the road was the cause of the difficulty, which came about when the driver of a car owned by the Black Creek granges failed to see the wagon in front of him because he was watching a car approaching from the south. He bumped into the wagon, damaging his car.

As a crowd gathered about the first car, another car going north, owned by the Fraser Lumber company of Appleton, crashed into the first one. The damage to both cars was not great and they were brought to an Appleton garage for repairs.

Human Bones, Experts Star In Risk Trail

Wisconsin Professor Brings Reconstructed Skeleton to Court

By Associated Press

Superior—Expert testimony that the bones found in the ruins of the Nebagamon wrecked cottage at Lake Nebagamon were those of a human similar in size to Edward J. Salistad, missing Eau Claire, Wis., manufacturer and that teeth correspond to an x-ray photograph taken of Salistad's teeth before his disappearance, was scheduled to be given in federal court here Thursday.

Salistad perished in the Lake Nebagamon fire it is contended by counsel for Mrs. Leonora Salistad-Richardson who seeks to force payment of a $10,000 life policy her first husband carried with the New York Life Insurance Company. First concrete testimony to this effect was given by the witness Wednesday.

CHARGE ELOPEMENT
The defense claims Salistad eloped with Dorothy, a waitress, and that the bones were those of a human fire which razed the building and two others adjacent.

Dr. C. H. Bunting, a pathologist at the University of Wisconsin, arrived here Thursday. Dr. Bunting reconstructed the complete skeleton of a man from bones recovered in the Nebagamon fire. His report stated that the bones were similar to those of a man of Salistad's size.

DENTIST ON STAND

Dr. E. T. Finucan, of Eau Claire, who was Salistad's dentist and business partner in the now defunct Multitone Company and took x-ray photographs of the missing man's teeth will stand the plaintiff's attorneys' counsel. Dr. Finucan's description and charts were used as the basis for the report of Dr. Bunting.

Ten witnesses, including the plaintiff and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Parkhill, of Superior, Wednesday gave testimony intended to prove that Salistad, after making preparations to receive a wife and two children, fled from his home and died in a mysterious fire which razed the cottage and two adjoining houses.

Mrs. Thelma Lindquist, of Lake Nebagamon, whose next door cottage caught fire and burned, testified that she saw Salistad the night of the fire and talked with him. Mrs. Lindquist was subjected to lengthy cross examination over the statement that Salistad "acted queer" while carrying a box from his automobile into the house. This box, the defense claims, contained the human bones found in the ruins.

SPUD PRICES SLIDE AS SHIPPING STARTS

Farmers Urged To Send Highest Grade To Market To Keep Up Price

Madison—Potato prices paid to Wisconsin growers are already sliding. E. B. Jones, of the state department of agriculture, says that the fall marketing of the potato districts of the state. Farmers face a serious marketing problem as a result of the bumper $7,000,000 bushels crop, in his opinion.

Before the shipping season is well under way prices paid growers have fallen to 65 cents for the lower grades, with prospects for a continued decline as the season progresses. Among themselves, farmers to offer only the best grades of their potatoes for the market in an effort to bring the prices at a level that will bring them a paying return. Dumping of the entire crop might send prices at an extremely low level, he says.

Shipment of Wisconsin potatoes has been commenced and will continue through the winter months. Strict grading regulations are being applied at shipping points to assure the maintenance of a standard quality.

MANY BODIES OF GREEK REFUGEES FILL HARBOR

Constantinople—American subsear-

Constantinople—American subsear No. 98 has arrived here with reports of the appalling situation at Mudania where the harbor is filled with the bodies of refugees who starved when the last vessel departed before the Turkish occupation. Fifty thousand refugees without food or water, lined the water front for miles in the broiling sun with arms uplifted, pleading to be taken off. Those brought here included fifteen Americanized Greeks and a Mr. Ketchum, an employee of the Standard Oil company.

WIFE OF PRESIDENT BETTER; STOP BULLETINS

Washington—Further improvement in the condition of Mrs. Harding was reported Thursday by Brig. General Sawyer, white house physician. The president's wife, he said spent an excellent night—the best since her arrival here. Sawyer, who is making cooperative progress, he added is being made. Announcement was made at the white house that in view of the steady improvement in Mrs. Harding's condition no more formal bulletins would be issued to the press.

DIES AS MEN RISK LIVES IN GAS TRAP

Racine Superintendent Loses Life, Several Are Overcome in Main Leak

By Associated Press

Racine—Leaking gas from a large main leading from the works of the Wisconsin Gas and Electric company plant in Second-st. Wednesday caused the death of George H. Connolly, superintendent and rendered unconscious for a time several other employees who were at work at the bottom of a cofferdam.

Numbered among the latter is William Ahlschlager, foreman of a distribution gang who was overcome by the fumes and is not expected to recover.

R. J. Whitney, another employee who was at the bottom of the shaft, also was overcome and taken to a hospital but was able to leave shortly afterward.

Andrew Jorgenson, and Tony Cusick, placed their lives in jeopardy, going down into the gas filled shaft, nearly 30 feet below the surface, in order to bring Connolly up into the air in hope of saving his life. Jorgenson fastened a rope about the waist of Connolly and just as he had completed that task he fell over unconscious and was dragged to this surface by a dozen or more employees who had hold of the ropes.

Connolly's death completes a cycle of our generations of his family which have been visited by the grim reaper this year. His father, former city engineer, F. H. Connolly, died several months ago. His grandfather's death, and the death of his baby daughter occurred some time earlier.

INVITE 100,000 TO FASHION REVUE

Merchants Will Distribute 23,000 Copies of Style Edition For Next Week

In addition to the regular 10,000 edition of the Appleton Post-Crescent, 1,000 extra copies of the Fall Fashion number, that is to be printed will be sent by Appleton merchants to all parts of the shopping district to advertise next week's style festival.

This circulation of 23,000 copies will reach approximately 100,000 persons and will tell them of the advantages of shopping in Appleton. It is expected that the festival will attract a large number of new shoppers to inspect the array of fall merchandise.

The downtown streets will present a festive appearance all next week, as all merchants have been asked not only to put in special window displays but also decorate the store fronts. All show windows will be kept dark, however, until 7 o'clock Monday evening. At that time the shades will be raised and the fall merchandise of various kinds will be open to view. None of the stores will be open for business, however, other than those which are usually open evenings.

The festival will open with a band concert and an automobile procession in which Appleton auto dealers will display the new 1923 models. This will take place shortly after 7 o'clock. Later in the evening, probably at 8 o'clock, a pavement dance will be held on Morrison-st. between College-ave. and Lawrence-st. This will be open to the public. The Artillery band will furnish the music. A band stand is to be erected on the corner for that purpose.

HOUSE GIVES BONUS O. K.; GOES TO SENATE

Washington—Without a record vote the house approved Thursday the conference report on the soldiers' bonus bill. The measure now goes to the senate and with final action there it will be sent to President Harding.

The amendment of Senator Borah, Republican, which would reduce the federal loan bill to appropriate $20,000,000 for completion and development of western land reclamation projects, was adopted Thursday by the Senate 26 to 23.

After fifteen minutes debate and without a record vote the senate passed and sent to conference the Capper-Tincher bill designed to meet the decision of the Supreme court holding imperative certain sections of the present law, regulating trading in grain futures.

SCOTT LEADS IN MICHIGAN CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Detroit—Frank D. Scott, of Alpena, on the face of the most complete returns has won the Republican congressional nomination in the eleventh district by a comfortable margin over Frank B. Aldrich of Long Point.

With but four precincts missing, Bird J. Vincent, of Saginaw, was leading his nearest opponent, William Smith of St. Johns, by a slight margin for the Republican congressional nomination in the Eighth district. Outcome of the fight for Republican congressional honors in the Ninth district was in doubt, with Congressman J. C. McLaughlin leading in the Engel, of Lake City, by a substantial majority. A large number of precincts were yet to be heard from, however.

Fifty Roads To Sign Peace With Strikers

Government Continues Fight For Permanent Restraining Order

NOT TO DROP CASE, REPORT

Defense Ready To Refute Sabotage Charges Brought By Daugherty

By Associated Press

Chicago—Despite the partial settlement of the railway shopmen's strike the injunction fight in Judge Wilkerson's court on Attorney General Daugherty's application for a preliminary restraining order against rail strikers continued Thursday.

Peace settlements would not alter the government's determination to finish its case, spokesmen for the attorney general said.

EVIDENCE CONTINUES

The hearing continued with government attorneys offering more evidence in support of their charges that a widespread conspiracy of violence and intimidation existed in connection with shopmen's strike.

Preparations of additional counter evidence against that being submitted by the attorney general office before Judge Wilkerson to make permanent the temporary injunction against officials of the railway employees department American Federation of Labor, was started Thursday by the defense.

The conclusion of peace negotiations between the striking shopmen and a number of roads Wednesday permits the introduction of evidence to refute the charges of conspiracy and sabotage, defense attorneys said, which could not be introduced before, because of the nature of the peace negotiations.

Donald R. Richberg, defense attorney, left the shopmen's case in the hands of Frank L. Mulholland shortly after court opened Thursday and began the preparation of the evidence which he expects to submit before midnight Thursday, the expiration of the ten-day extension of the temporary order.

This evidence, he said, will show the real cause of the strike and be "ample proof" against the government charges.

WASHINGTON HAPPY

Washington—The new development in the rail strike situation was received with satisfaction by all administration officials including President Harding. Many would not comment for publication, preferring to wait until an actual settlement had been reached but at the treasury it was said that Secretary Mellon because of his lifetime experience in dealing with industrial and financial affairs and because of his present duties watches the business situation closely, took the view that with the move to industrial troubles, the outlook for business was "very good."

Mr. Mellon was said, however, to see limitations upon the transportation facilities of the railways which would prohibit any enormous expansion of business activity in the immediate future. Shortage of equipment and possible labor shortages are the limiting factors in Mellon's opinion.

Mr. Mellon represented as seeing no difficulty ahead of the carries in supplying the needs and requirements of the country over the winter, particularly in the matter of coal.

MEET SATURDAY

Washington—Direct negotiations to end the shopmen's strike, on the Southern Railway on the basis of the agreement adopted by the hopcraft's general policy committee will be inaugurated at conferences to be held here beginning Saturday.

DEMOCRATS SEND OUT PARLEY CALL

Meeting To Be Held In Madison Sept. 18—Plan Independent Ticket

By Associated Press
Green Bay—Leading Democrats of this community Thursday received letters from W. D. Carroll, secretary of the Democratic state central committee, calling a meeting of all Democrats in the state at Madison Monday, Sept. 18, to adopt a method by which Democratic nominees may be placed on an independent column on the official ballot in view of reported lack of sufficient Democratic votes cast in the primary Sept. 5.

The call in part reads: "This is a critical hour in Wisconsin's Democratic politics. The situation at the present writing is briefly this: We have not sufficient votes to entitle us to the party column upon the official ballot. The nominees for each state office will be placed in the independent column and are entitled to the name 'Democrat' attached to the name. This gives at least the foundation of a ticket.

"There is some doubt if, under the law, we can elect the state central committee, provided by the statutes, however, we can get together and form a going organization for the future."

Gets Five Days Extra When He Lies To Judge

Two days in jail for being drunk. Five days in jail for lying.

This was the punishment meted out to Fred Kiebert, who lives alone in a hut on upper Fox river, when he appeared before Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Thursday morning on a charge of drunkenness. "I didn't have any moonshine, judge," said Kiebert, when he was arraigned. "All I drank was a little near beer."

Judge Spencer found these statements hard to believe when the police submitted a bottle of moonshine found in the man's pocket as evidence that the liquid was nearer jag quality than innocent beer.

Kiebert was arrested at a home near the river bank Wednesday afternoon.

MEN PREPARE TO GO BACK TO WORK

6,000 Workers At Milwaukee and Other Badger Cities May Start Monday

By Associated Press

Milwaukee—The first group of the nearly 6,000 railroad shopmen in Milwaukee will return to work Monday, if not earlier in conformity with the terms of agreement effected Wednesday between strikers and individual railroads. Both the Chicago and Northwestern and the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul roads are numbered with these lines.

John Johnson, president of the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul road system federation, John E. Kiefer, of the Blacksmiths of that road and Eugene Conney, of the Chicago and Northwestern local federation, left for Chicago Thursday to take part in the formal signing of the agreement on both roads.

Both railroads here instructed employment agencies to cease sending help to the shops and roundhouses.

MADISON PREPARES

Madison—A meeting of local rail road officials and officers of the Federated shopcrafts was held here Thursday to iron out grievances developed during the shopmen's strike, now settled on the two local roads.

This conference is expected to clear away local difficulties that might stand in the way of complete settlement of the strike in the shops here. In the meantime the men are awaiting instructions from their national union advising when they are to return to work.

Before going back to the shops the men plan to hold a mass meeting as a means of checking premature return by some of their number.

MRS. HART TO SUE "BILL" FOR DECREE

Los Angeles—Suit for divorce on the grounds of "extreme cruelty" will be instituted against William S. Hart, film actor, by Mrs. Winifred Westover Hart, according to an announcement Thursday by Mrs. Hart's attorney, who however, declined to give details of the allegations which he promised would be made. Reports that Hart had reached a $200,000 cash settlement with his wife, were verified by Mrs. Hart's attorney. He added however, that a complete settlement had not been effected and that his client would ask for a much larger sum when the matter of legal separation came up.

MERCHANTS OF VALLEY MEET AT FOND DU LAC

The second district meeting of the Wisconsin Retail Dry Goods association, including merchants of Fox river valley was held in Fond du Lac on Thursday. About 60 merchants from various cities throughout the Fox River Valley and vicinity were present for the purpose of exchanging ideas and discussing general business conditions.

D. F. Conery of Madison, executive secretary of the association, said the aim of the merchants was to discuss business conditions with each other, not to try to hold up prices, but to reduce prices for the benefit of the community.

Similar conferences have been held at Wausau, La Crosse, Chippewa Falls, Madison and Appleton. J. D. Steele of Appleton is one of the officers of the association.

PROTEST COAL PRICE

By Associated Press
Minneapolis, Minn.—Forty-four flour mills operating in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and South Dakota, protested the present prices charged by operators and wholesale distributors of coal, in a resolution mailed to Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce Thursday.

250 Shopmen at Kaukauna Await Instructions To Go To Work

MEN WIN SENIORITY RIGHTS

Wages To Be Same As Decided By Rail Labor Board Early Last Summer

South Kaukauna.—Eager to go back to work after months of idleness, yet unwilling to accept anything less official than a telegram from E. M. Jewell, head of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor, 250 men employed at the Ashland division shops of the Chicago & Northwestern railway here, are manifesting a more optimistic mood than at any time since they dropped their strike.

The men had received no official communication from the union heads up to noon Thursday, but the talk of a big meeting in the evening seemed to predict that the good tidings would arrive during the afternoon.

Workers were gathered in groups talking over the developments. They indicated that they would not return to work in response to unofficial reports, yet believed they would be back at their jobs on Monday morning. Strikebreakers employed in the shops already began leaving Thursday on receipt of word of the truce.

Chicago.—Among the roads generally understood to have accepted the settlement proposal after Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago, Milwaukee and Northwestern, Chicago Milwaukee and Garry, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and Seaboard Airline. About 50 roads in all are ready to sign peace, it is understood.

BEGIN NEGOTIATIONS

Chicago.—Members of the shopcrafts policy committee who Wednesday approved peace plans for ending the railway strike through separate agreements with individual roads, Thursday began separate settlement negotiations under terms of the agreement.

Instructions to various system federation officials to enter into signatory negotiations and arrange agreements with their roads were sent out from union headquarters by Bert M. Jewell, chief strike leader, and head of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

Although the shopcrafts executive council remained here with Mr. Jewell to direct the affairs of the railway shop unions in settling the strike, policy committee members scattered to their respective backwoods soon after the settlement plan was agreed.

50 RAILROADS INVOLVED

Railway systems counted among those expected to sign the agreement immediately or soon were said to number about 50 of the 202 class one roads of the country. The mileage affected was estimated at about 55,000 of the 250,000 miles of track in the United States.

Under the terms of the peace plan, shopmen are to return to work under wage scales prescribed by the United States Railroad Labor board effective, July 1, the date the strike began in protest against the board's decisions.

The question of seniority which developed after the strike began and proved to be the chief barrier to an earlier settlement was not specifically mentioned in the agreement, which provided that the shopmen shall return to work in "positions of their class" they occupied before the strike.

The agreement made no mention of working conditions or the contract system for "farming out" shopwork which, with the wage controversy were the original issues in the strike.

Disputes over the "relative standing" of employees and toward standards which might arise as outgrowth of the strikers, shall under the peace terms be referred to adjustment boards composed of representatives of the carriers and their employees if the disputes cannot be settled as an adjustment matter between an employee and his road.

The agreement requires the signatory roads to find places for all returned strikers within 30 days after it becomes effective. Strikers who have committed acts of violence are not protected in the agreement to restore former jobs to employees.

THIRD PARTY ROAD Ready to SUE
W. H. Finley, president of the Chicago and Northwestern, one of the big systems included in the agreement said the road would make a settlement with its shopmen Thursday.

Through early settlements on some lines, followed by subsequent agreements, with others not yet included among the willing roads, there will probably be a gradual return to work. Mr. Jewell said. He admitted that the shopmen face stubborn opposition from some roads whose officials announced they were through with negotiations.

Much of the credit for effecting separate settlements was given by the shop craft executive council to S. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line and head of a railroad securities company, said to control $10,000,000 of stock. Conference between Mr. Warfield, President of the Baltimore and Ohio, in Baltimore early this month, opened the way to the agreement.

OFFICIAL CANVASS OF COUNTY VOTE NOW COMPLETED

Democratic Candidates Re- ceive Less Votes Than Re- quired for Party Ticket

The official count of the vote cast in Outagamie co. in the recent primary election for state, congressional, legislative and county officers has been completed by the county board of canvassers. A report of the returns has been mailed to the secretary of state and the state canvassing board at Madison.

Minor differences were found in the returns on some offices, but in general the official totals do not vary materially from the unofficial totals published in the Post-Crescent the morning following the primaries.

The total vote cast for governor by each political party in the county is as follows: Republican, 12,178; Democrat, 265; Prohibition, 39; Socialist, 21. The only Democratic candidates in the county, L. Hugo Keller, for district attorney, and John Hantschel, for clerk, received 243 and 278 votes respectively, which is less than the 625 votes required to insure Democratic nomination. They automatically become candidates on the independent ticket.

Following is the total vote each candidate received in the county, according to the official count:

POSTAL TELEGRAPH LINKS WITH RADIO

Wireless Communication With Europe Now Possible from Appleton

Trans Atlantic radio service of the Radio Corporation of America will be available in Appleton as a result of an agreement of that concern with the Postal Telegraph company, according to Miss K. Kaestle, local manager. The agreement provides that the telegraph company will accept at all offices dispatches to be sent to Europe via radio, while the radio corporation will turn over to the Postal Telegraph all messages received by it for delivery to land line offices.

Heretofore it has been virtually impossible for persons situated outside of New York to avail themselves of trans Atlantic wireless service because the radio corporation does not maintain offices outside of New York and has no wires or other means of reaching inland points except at Washington, D. C.

While Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal, does not believe that radio will ever supplant the cables still in order to stimulate use of communication by telegraph, cable and radio he stated that his company has made an agreement with the Telefunken company of Germany, whereby the Mackay interests will purchase all the high powered radio apparatus necessary to construct in the United States high powered stations for the transaction of radio business.

AID OFFICES WILL BE FINISHED NOV. 1

Italian Marble Arrives for In- terior Installation—Penney Fixtures Here

The Rosato marble for the vestibule, lobby and stairways of the new Insurance building of the Aid Association for Lutherans has arrived and is now being placed. It is an Italian marble of yellowish tint. The home office of the association, which is to occupy the fifth floor will be occupied by Nov. 1. The fourth floor will be completed about the same time.

The fixtures for J. C. Penney Co. which has leased the first floor have arrived but cannot be installed until the painters complete their work.

ST. PAUL'S PLANS MISSION FESTIVAL

The annual mission festival will be observed at St. Paul Lutheran church Sunday. Services will be held in the morning afternoon and evening. The evening service will be in the English language, the forenoon and afternoon meetings in German.

The Rev. T. J. Sauer has secured the following speakers: The Rev. Ed. Ward Hinnenthal of Forestville for the 10:15 service; the Rev. Emil Redlin of Ellington, for the 2:30 service; the Rev. Ewald Sterz of Shiocton, for the evening service.

Foreign and home mission needs will be presented and the usual mission offering will be gathered. Special music will be rendered by Concordia choir.

185 Entered Portals Of Lawrence 25 Years Ago

Twenty five years ago 185 students enrolled at Lawrence college, then known as Lawrence university, an increase of ten over the previous year. Seventy-two of this number registered from Appleton and the majority of them are now scattered over the country. Among those who have died since leaving college are F. J. Wells, Paul R. Benjamin, Elsie Bottensck, Jennie Pearson, Aline Pearson, Blanche Chilson and Angie M. Wagg.

The Appleton students were: F. J. Wells, C. R. Hower, Margaret Mower, Bert A. Fride, Forest E. Kellogg, F. V. Heinemann, Paul R. Benjamin, Grace A. Stannard, George J. Stansbury, Edna E. Saecker, Laura Lummins, Sarah G. Silvester, Sadie E. McNamee, Mae McCarthy, E. F. Bowman, Barbara McNaughton, Anna P. Hart, Caroline Silverthorn, G. K. McInnis, W. A. Ladwig, Roy Merrill, R.

O. Bright, Karl Stansbury, Elsie Bottensck, Mae McCarey, H. C. Logan, E. M. Lohmann, Beatie Clark, Jennie Pearson, Aline Pearson, Margaret Winslow, Anita Gochsauer, Kathryn Gochsauer, Ada Saecker, Eugenia Voigt, Mary L. Knox, Blanche Chilson, Luella Chilson, Cora Cantonwine, George Webb Dorothy Barrett, Mae Blackwood, Frank Buckland, Ione Whorton, Georgine Whorton, George P. White, Angie M. Wagg, Mamie Ming, Florence Boyd, Luck J. Buckland, G. M. Keyes, H. J. Hughes, Hatlie Wheeler, Irene Whitman, Roy Fets, Eva F. Smolk, Isabelle Peterson, Florence B. Nichols, W. S. Bitter, Josephine Gowan, Eva W. Ames, and Helen Wiggins.

AID NEW LONDON IN ROTARY JUBILEE

A large party of Rotarians is planning to attend the meeting of the Rotary club recently organized at New London, on the evening of Sept. 22. The club will receive its charter at that time. Harry Craddock of Minneapolis, a speaker of note, will give an address. He is the past governor of the old fifteenth district and is at present a member of the international board of directors.

As a means of advertising Appleton, Secretary H. G. Thomas of the Appleton club sends a souvenir post card of some Appleton institution to the club of another city, announcing that a member of that club was a guest of the Appleton Rotarians, whenever a visiting Rotarian is here.

13 CASES OF WHOOPING COUGH IN FOURTH WARD

Fourteen cases of whooping cough, thirteen of which are in the Fourth ward, have been reported to Dr. W. C. Felton, health officer. There are five cases in one home three in another, and the total number of homes placed under quarantine is five. No new cases have been reported by physicians for several days.

CHINA FINANCE PRESENTS PUZZLE

China will face a crucial period at the mid-autumn festival on Oct. 5, when the government requires $13,500,000 to meet its obligations, according to a Peking dispatch. Acting Finance Minister Chang Ting Hsu frankly admits his inability to raise more than a small portion of the amount. New negotiations undertaken by the Chinese with foreign bankers for a $1,500,000 loan are doubtful of results.

The proposal of Dr. Paul S. Reinsch who delivered a lecture on China at Lawrence memorial chapel last winter, for a continuation loan of $2,000,000 monthly for ten months meets with strong opposition in foreign circles in Peking, since the present dilatoriness of parliament indicates that this would be frittered away before that body drafts a constitution.

IMPORT JACK RABBITS TO GIVE RIFLEMEN SPORT

Attempts are being made by sports men of Wisconsin to propagate Jack rabbits, the long legged donkey-eared hopping denizens of western plains for hunting purposes.

Several dozen have been imported to this state, according to the state conservation commission and their shooting prohibited for a period of time to see if they will multiply into a large enough number to provide good sport for Wisconsin nimrods.

KINSMAN, THOMAS GO TO NEW ROTARY UNIT EVENT

Dr. D. O. Kinsman, president of Appleton Rotary club, and H. C. Thomas, secretary, will attend the meeting of executives of the new tenth district at Green Bay Friday and Saturday. This will be the first meeting of its kind since the district branched off from the old fifteenth district. It includes Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan. Preparations will be made at the executives' meeting for the district convention that is to be held in Milwaukee in February.

The Cap that never fits

"No harm can come to me from coffee or tea," is what so many people say. Yet those same people are often quick to note the signs of coffee harm in others.

How familiar the danger signals are—upset digestion, sleepless nights and irritability—just warnings of the nervous breakdown that lurks just a little way ahead. How easy and how delightful the escape—by drinking delicious Instant Postum instead of the beverages that contain the irritant caffeine.

Instant Postum is the tempting cereal drink made from roasted wheat. It is prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Its snappy flavor is not unlike that of coffee.

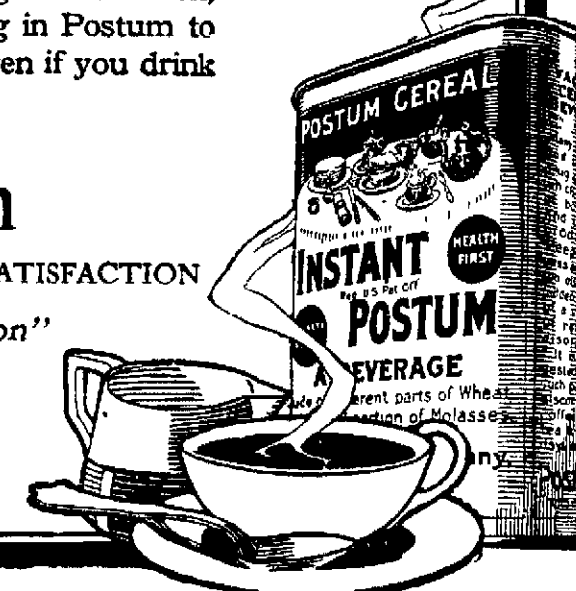

It is safe for everybody in your household including the children, and there's nothing in Postum to keep you awake even if you drink it at midnight.

I WONDER

If we realize the tremendous opportunity for service, perhaps world service, with our Lawrence students?

Many are away from home for the first time, perhaps homesick, discouraged, needy, some must of necessity work their way.

Invite some of them to sit in your family pew, take them into your homes, talk of their problems, help those who are needy to find jobs. The pastor will deliver a special message, "Christianity's Call To The Students." Help by your presence.

THE WEEK'S ELECTIONS

The elections this week are hardly to be explained on a partisan basis. Senator Lodge is renominated by the Republicans of Massachusetts by a tremendous majority, but this does not necessarily testify to his personal popularity. A comparatively weak candidate ran against him. We can tell only in November whether Massachusetts subscribes to Lodge reaction and indorses his unenviable record in the senate.

In Michigan Senator Townsend has been renominated by a good plurality in a field of four candidates. Neither Kelley nor Emery made the showing that was expected of them, although it is probable they would have polled a considerably larger vote had not Baker, who ran second, entered the contest as a fourth candidate. Mr. Baker represented the discredited element, and it must be a satisfaction to Michigan to know that the radicals of that state are outnumbered by progressives and conservatives more than two to one.

It is evident that the issue of Newberryism counted for little in the campaign. Powerful forces were behind the Townsend candidacy, in fact very much the same forces that put Newberry across. With the opposition split three ways it was comparatively easy to win the primary. We do not in any sense consider that Michigan has indorsed Newberryism. So far as the respective abilities of the various candidates were concerned, Mr. Townsend stood first. He has served Michigan well and the only real indictment of his record is his vote to seat Newberry, an act somewhat excused by circumstances as politics is commonly played. Primaries in other states have shown how costly to the administration was the Newberry scandal. A further reminder from Michigan was quite unnecessary. The liability is recognized at Washington, and it probably will be more fully realized in November.

We have Maine, for instance, as a straw indicating the direction of the political winds in the fall elections. It gave Mr. Harding for president a plurality of 77,000 two years ago. This year the Republican plurality is something like 25,000. A cut to one-third of the plurality of 1920 is a big drop, and is not to be explained by the fact that a lighter vote was polled. Furthermore, we must bear in mind the important fact that national discontent and dissatisfaction with the administration are strongest in the west and diminish as we approach the east.

The truth of the whole matter is that little can be judged by any of the preliminary elections, primary or other. Conditions vary greatly in the states, and politics is in such a state of flux throughout the country that local situations are seldom indicative nationally. In some sections radicalism seems to be in full swing, in others reaction is still strong and in still others public opinion is sanely progressive. We will hardly be able to take a national inventory of our political status until after the November election. Advance estimates are merely guesswork.

AGAINST PHOTOPLAY CENSORSHIP

Dean Charles N. Davis, executive secretary of the Social Service department of the Episcopal church in an address to the City club of Portland, Ore., took a positive stand against censorship of motion pictures. He said that there is no standard for censoring. One board would have one conviction; another board another opinion.

Dr. Davis takes the truly American position. It is impossible to regulate everybody and everything by bureaucracy. Regulations should be effected by conscience, and the right means is moral education. Nothing is so threatening to the fundamentals of liberty as restrictive, regulatory measures.

EQUALIZING INTERNATIONAL DEBTS

As the debts which nations owe one another are discussed, sentiment evidently tends to favor an adjustment which would somehow reduce the totals and consequently cut down the interest charges. If all the external debts, which are mainly war obligations, could be wiped out, or at least reduced, the effect would be to remove excessive tax burdens from the people's shoulders.

These enormous debts, which could never be paid off in the usual process could be charged against one another, to an extent, and balances struck off. The interest saved would be a boon to all nations concerned.

How to adjust the international debts so as to reduce the totals is a practical, mathematical problem. It must be studied out and worked out. No one could say offhand just what could or might be done for relief. But it is worth while to make an effort to lower taxes in all lands.

TURKS KNOW HOW TO USE THEIR FRIENDS

Crafty, the Turks have a habit of playing the leading nations of Europe against one another. Long ago they learned that the diplomacy of Europe is selfish, and their power is not so much strength of their own as strength derived from the weakness of competing nations.

The great nations of Europe have it in their power to settle the Turkish problem. If they would act in good faith and full accord among themselves, Turkey would have to do their bidding. The powers have sought to use both Turkey and Greece as catspaws to advance their selfish interests. The present disastrous war between Greece and Turkey would never have occurred had the allies adhered to their originally expressed purpose of putting Turkey out of Europe and confining Turkish power to a restricted area in Asia.

They have played questionable politics with Greece, and have promoted internal dissension in that country between the monarchists and the Venizelists, in addition to putting Greece in its present predicament with Turkey. Neither the Greeks nor the Turks have any friends in Europe, excepting as they may be capable of using them for some ulterior purpose.

RECORD BUSINESS IS ACTUALLY HERE

Financial and commercial statements are excellent. According to reports from industrial centers, there will soon be more than enough jobs for all, as production is increasing fast. This means a large buying power to equalize the immense agricultural output.

All but one of the important strikes are settled, and this, the shopmen's strike, looks as if it is about to be terminated any minute. The situation calls for confidence, that is, confidence put into action. Good business is here right now. Obstructionists are out of date. It is up to them to get into tune with the prosperous times.

The Unchangeable Villain

No villain really looks the part, according to popular fancy in America, unless he wears a black mustache. A blond adornment for the upper lip will not do. No one can be a villain with a smooth face. Though facial trimmings have pretty much gone out of fashion in this country movie audiences remain obtuse. No black mustache, no villain; the decision is irrevocable.

An explanation of the odd circumstance is offered by a Chicago university professor who suggests that the persistent belief that a dash of hirsute blackness above a man's mouth denotes wickedness goes back to ancestral folk tales in northern Europe. The blond races from which English speaking peoples sprang lived in constant fear of black-bearded men from southern Europe. They came through the years to associate villainy with dark hair and this constant fear came down through the generations in the form of folk lore and legends of black-whiskered marauders on nightly errands of mischief.

So, if the professor has it right, the villain of the movie being the blood descendant of the villains of early ancestral days, must run true to form when it comes to facial adornment. Screen beauties may vary in type, heroes may adopt their habits to the time, but the villain is doomed to eternal unchangeableness. He must wear a black mustache or be a movie nobody.—CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER.

BOY'S SIDE ACHES

A boy aged 14 complains of "side ache" when he walks fast or runs some distance and sometimes when he is engaged in active gymnastic work.

This brings up happy memories of barefoot days and the joy of running to fires or on great occasions even helping volunteer firemen pull the hose cart thru the old town streets to the fire.

Side ache on sustained exertion is probably caused by dilatation of the right side of the heart which is under considerable strain pumping enough blood thru the lungs. It isn't necessarily a danger signal. We know that who have run to fires. But it is a warning signal. It is warning that you had better ease off and catch up on your breathing.

From 12 to 15 or 16 is just the side ache age, of boyhood, and this is the age, too, when many boys, under incompetent physical direction, attempt physical contests which are beyond their capacity.

Dilatation of the right side of the heart under a sustained effort is normal and physiological up to a certain point. It may become pathological if the strain is too great and when the dilatation or stretching of the heart muscles is carried to a pathological extreme recovery may not only fail, but the boy will be broken in health as well as wind for many a long year. This is the menace to be faced by growing boys who are unwise permitted to engage in such contests as football and long races of the marathon kind while still in their teens.

There is not nearly enough athletic training in our common schools and high school, either for the boys or for the girls. Every schoolboy and every school girl should be compelled to engage in one or another athletic game as part of his or her proper education. Sports in which boys and girls are permitted to dodge swimming or gym or other athletic training on some flimsy excuse are schools that need a housecleaning, and we have a few such schools almost everywhere that antediluvian methods of instruction prevail.

The process of "training" consists principally of development of the muscle of the right side of the heart—the athlete's heart must become somewhat enlarged and remain enlarged if he is to put forth the effort necessary to win contests. The degree of "training" advisable and safe for the average lad in his teens is not so great as that which the mature man may undergo. People do not look to boys in the teens to do the work or shoulder the responsibilities of the world. Neither should we let boys attempt to play the games of men.

Physical education, including athletics, is as good for a boy as algebra or Latin. But somehow we expect algebra and Latin teachers to be qualified by proper training, whereas anybody can look after his physical education—or nobody. This policy means ruin to the boy's health sometimes, it means neglect of his health all the time, but it is the policy on which a lot of grammar schools and high schools are conducted.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tuberculous Meningitis
Please write me a letter telling me in detail all about tuberculous meningitis, how it originates, the symptoms, the best treatment. I would like to get a good doctor book with the human organs all shown in actual colors and—G. A. H.

Answer—Meningitis is inflammation of the membrane which lines the skull and covers the brain. Tuberculous meningitis is also known as water on the brain or acute hydrocephalus, and occurs chiefly in young children, the tuberculous infection reaching the brain membrane from a latent or old tuberculous focus in the lymph nodes behind the bronchial tubes or the lymph nodes behind the intestines. I regret I know of no "doctor book" of the type you desire, that I can recommend.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

INTEREST IN HUGHES' BRAZILIAN VISIT EXCEPTIONAL

Uncle Sam, "guest of honor," in the person of his Secretary of State, Charles Evans Hughes has been making his bow at the big party in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and the ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS expresses the feeling of American newspapers in general when it declares the event to be one of "more than ordinary interest."

When the United States gave its birthday party in Philadelphia in 1876 "there was no more brilliant as a notable delegation sent to his country," the ALLENTOWN CALL reports, "than that which was headed by Dom Pedro, then Emperor of Brazil. Nor did any country contribute in larger measure to the success of that famous exposition than the country of our southern neighbor. The RICHMOND TIMES DISPATCH complains that the return of that visit "has been long delayed," but editors as a whole seemed to me to be of one mind in wishing the celebration of Brazil's birthday party to celebrate her one hundred years of independence a uniquely fitting time on which to return the visit of the great Brazilian, and rejoice that this country is represented by so able a statesman and diplomat as Mr. Hughes. For, as the DETROIT FREE PRESS puts it, with the American "premier" delegated as Ambassador Extraordinary, "Brazil knows that we are sending our best, and we know that, on the present occasion, our best is very good," while Mr. Hughes has before him one of the great opportunities of his career."

Much interest in the exposition itself is felt by American papers. It bids fair, the OAKLAND TRIBUNE says, "to be a notable show. All the important nations of the world and many of the unimportant ones are taking part. One of the most important world conference and conventions will be held during the exposition and the greatest art collection ever shown in South America will be on display." The United States "will play a good part," in the affair, the ROCHESTER HERALD reports. "Through a million dollar appropriation by Congress a handsome building has been erected with a hall for the display of manufactured articles from the various states and territories. The SIOUX CITY JOURNAL adds, "a permanent in character and will be used afterward as the United States embassy."

More than a century of independence is being commemorated in the great fair at Rio, our editors point out. There is also being celebrated, the WASHINGTON POST says, "a century of governmental, economic, industrial and cultural progress." This is the title of pictures of Rio de Janeiro in 1822 identifies the squalid, torpid seaport that it then was with the splendid, gleaming city into which it has developed. Only the captions of chapters in volumes describing Brazil of a hundred years ago identify the land of unrealized possibilities and unknown resources and undeveloped country that it now is.

The ASBURY PARK PRESS points out that "Pioneers in Brazil had more obstacles to contend with than the pioneers who built this nation. Transforming jungles into fertile fields, effecting a marvelous development in the face of semitropical conditions, Brazil has gone ahead steadily in making use of her natural resources and carrying out her republican ideals." Indeed, her progress "has been almost rapid," the WALL STREET JOURNAL thinks; "her achievements need no validation. Credit and gold and money will follow, and nothing will then be in the way of Brazil becoming a world power."

Certainly "the eyes of the world will be upon Brazil in the future," the DULUTH HERALD believes, since, as the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER sees it, "the vastness of its resources can scarcely be estimated." Hence, the ITHACA JOURNAL NEWS adds, "there is almost no limit to the possibilities of development," and "it seems destined to be one of the world's major political units." Already "Brazil has much to offer in the way of trade," the TACOMA LEDGER holds, "and there are many things which the United States produces for which a ready market in Brazil would be found if serious attempts were made to cultivate such markets."

Because of all this the relations between the great nations of the world are vital to both, and it is in the opportunity afforded to make these relations impregnable that the value of Secretary Hughes' visit lies. The two countries have always been friendly, the CHICAGO TRIBUNE observes, and they "have much in common. The Brazilian constitution is patterned after our own, the nation's sentiments are the Monroe Doctrine are almost identical, and the American and Brazilian ideals and purposes are honored and respected there." The UTICA PRESS finds that the relations between the United States and Brazil "have been increasingly cordial and close" since Elihu Root's successful mission in 1906, and "so long as the cordiality and cooperation continue Pan-American solidarity will be real and lasting." However, "that the countries are coming out of the control of the United States in the intervention of the United States in Haiti and San Domingo, not to speak of strained relations with Mexico have affected Pan-Americanism adversely," the NEW YORK TIMES thinks "is not to be doubted." But "the task of Secretary Hughes will be to reassure these nations that find difficulty in reconciling the performance of our professions," and in the discharge of this task "the ALTOONA MIRROR finds "infinite possibilities for good."

These possibilities, to the EL PASO TIMES, include "something more than a few semi-royal progresses about the exposition grounds and an oration of two glittering with the platitudes of international friendship. There is real business to be done and the TIMES looks to Secretary Hughes "to find time to begin it."

In short, "what Americans can do for Brazil," the BOSTON HERALD regards as "almost incalculable." The late James Bryce had that thought strongly in mind when he quoted from an American traveler in the southland the words: "How men from the Mississippi would make things hum along the Amazon!"

GERLACH TO POINCARE

Berlin—Herr von Gerlach writing to M. Poincare points out the shamefulness of the policy of retortions. He says according to a copy of the letter published in WELT AM MONTAG here:

"I have never been able to approve of your policy. But I have sometimes, thought it right to refute attacks against you which seemed to me without foundation. I have often tried to show the difference to your advantage between your painfully aggressive speeches and your political action."

"I fear I shall have to change my opinion of you. Not because of London. Though your action there was regrettable, it was comprehensible in a statesman who sees his country approaching bankruptcy. After my opinion, which is that of almost everybody, you have taken a wrong turning which will not lead you to your aim and will lead us Germans to ruin. In spite of this, quite impartially, your London point of view is open to discussion."

"But what will not bear discussion is your policy of retortion in Alsace-Lorraine."

"Surely the first question that a statesman ought to ask before undertaking political action is to what do I want to attain? Not rather: but how can I attain it?"

"The statesman must in the first place be a psychologist."

"Your psychology in the matter of political retortion is like that of the Prussian militarists who thought to dispose the English people to peace by Zeppelin attacks on London, and thought to influence the American government by sending submarines to the American coasts."

"The material retortions are pin-pricks. The effect of these pin-pricks is felt by private German people and by the Alsatian community. A glance through the Islatian press will convince you of this. If payments are suspended to the head of German exploitation, he is unable to pay the wages and salaries to the Alsatian workmen, that is to say, to hundreds and thousands of French subjects. This is not a theoretical possibility, but a hard fact."

"The personal measures of retortion are incomparably more terrible. Hundreds of inoffensive men are taken from their country, their possessions and their business, at night. They are driven from the country, bachelors with 5,000 marks, married men with 10,000, which means, as beggars, they are expelled. Not because they are responsible for anything, but because they have to be the scape-goat for others (the German government)."

"It is the horrible theory of hostages which has always been considered as the specialty of the most brutal militarism. It was practiced during the war by the German generals. It was brought to perfection by the Soviet potentates."

"What you have done in Alsace-Lorraine, M. Poincare, is only different in degree, not in character, from the system of hostages practices by the Bolsheviks."

"In your letter to the deputy of Lower Alsace, Frey, you pretend that only 'undesirables' have been expelled. It is extraordinary that suddenly 500 dangerous individuals of this kind should have been discovered. Your authorities must have been asked, to let so many of these people be expelled. You must have asked them, 'All at once they have become vigilant—exactly at the time when you announce your 'retortions'.' An extraordinary coincidence of events!"

"The whole of public opinion in Alsace-Lorraine declares that among those expelled there were servants and artists, workmen and officials, completely innocent people have been expelled to do with politics. There has been, for instance, a woman of 90. Good heavens! How could her presence be dangerous?"

"Since I have taken up politics I have always protested against the policy of expulsion practiced by the Hohenzollerns. Twenty years ago I wrote an article called 'The Country of the Barbarians' when the Prussian government expelled Danish workmen from the South Schleswig. This opposition to my government at that time gives me the right now to raise my voice when I see you copy the methods of the Hohenzollerns." "M. Poincare, take care that French policy does not begin to throw a shadow over the pleasure that French culture gives us!"

"Your policy of expulsion is unwelcome, contrary to civilization, and unworthy of a chivalrous people. You must be considered the prior differs very little. If the Housewife places no value on her time and if the stove be hot anyway, it is more economical to make bread at home."

"Q. Why was sturgeon known as 'Albany beef?' D. H. A.

A. Seventy-five years ago sturgeon were so plentiful in the Hudson River that they were eaten instead of meat by the poor. After the Civil War this fish rose in favor and popularity. ## Personality Is Needed

Manuel Herriock, one of the brainiest men in Congress, changes his act. He attends a sale of surplus army supplies and buys 11 old airplanes at $180 apiece.

Recently he was defeated for renomination. As he retires to his Oklahoma farm with his flying craft the Oklahoma farmer suffers an irreparable loss—something really interesting in Congress. It takes personality to attract attention in a dull environment.

Key manufactures say a great change is taking place in their industry. The popularity of the five-gallon keg seems to be on the wane. Apparently last year's sample batch is for 10-gallon kegs, with 15 and 25-gallon sizes crowding Brother Ten. The current sensation among home brewers is the 52-gallon used whiskey barrel, direct from bonded warehouses. Some experts say a whiff at the bung is worth the price of the barrel.

The home brewer, making beer and wine in his cellar, is technically as much a bootlegger peddling "white ale" as the home brewer, of course, chloroforms his conscience by imitating that he operates under the wing of an unwritten law.

Find a way to make the country absolutely bone-dry for 90 days and you'll get action on prohibition, one way or the other. A final and definite decision is next to impossible as long as prohibition is only a half-hearted attempt at weaning.

Some big national movements go doggedly ahead, indifferent to temporary industrial setbacks. For instance, the good roads program.

Around 600 miles of highway a month are being built with the aid of the national government.

Good roads, however, involve something more than mileage. The biggest good roads problem is the motor truck as large as a box car, destroyer of pavements.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What is Augustus Thomas's new job called? Z. B. O.

A. The position which has been created for Mr. Thomas with the Producing Manager's Association has the official title "Executive Chairman." His work in the stage world will be similar to that of Will Hays in London.

Q. In a golf tournament at Match play, why can't I waive a rule or the enforcement of a penalty against my opponent if I want to be a "good sport?" W. W. J.

A. Not only can you not waive a rule or a penalty, but your opponent can not accept such generosity on your part. The reason for this is that such action might determine the result of the match. Every other player affected by the rule is directly affected by the result of your match. For example, to waive a penalty might favor a stronger player, which would be to the disadvantage of the other player in the succeeding match, or it might favor a weaker player, which would be correspondingly to the advantage of the player next to meet him.

Q. Is it more economical to make bread than it is to buy it? J. L. A.

A. When material, fuel, and labor are considered the price differs very little. If the Housewife places no value on her time and if the stove be hot anyway, it is more economical to make bread at home.

Q. Why was sturgeon known as "Albany beef?" D. H. A.

A. Seventy-five years ago sturgeon were so plentiful in the Hudson River that they were eaten instead of meat by the poor. After the Civil War this fish rose in favor and popularity. The price advanced from 3 or 4 cents a pound to the present price which is about 75 cents a pound when any is put on the market.

Q. How much money did the 12 1/2 percent wage reduction of July 12, 1922, save the railroads? W. W.

A. This decrease the operating expenses of the railroads by $124,585,310.

Q. Are the locks at Sault Ste. Marie service men.

controlled by the State of Michigan or the United States? B. F. L.

A. Only part of the locks are on the American side of St. Marys River. When the American canal was first opened in 1855 it was controlled by the Federal Government.

Q. Has the idea of the Covenant died out among the Scotch? L. A.

A. This term denoted association of bands of Scotch people who undertook to support each other in times of danger or to maintain some principle. As lately as 1912 a Covenant was drawn up. This one was a protest of the Scotch Presbyterians of Ulster against the Irish Home Rule under Mr. Asquith.

Q. What is the weight of the human brain? D. H. Y.

A. The brain of man is usually heavier than that of woman, although at birth and at the age of 14 the female brain is heavier. The average weight of the adult male's brain is about 48 ounces and of the female about 45 ounces. Weight of

"Bandits" Are Plotting For Show Of Merit

Rehearsals of "Blue Bandits," the comic opera which Ony Johnson post of the American Legion will sponsor at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings are going off with much style. The success of the rehearsals forecasts a performance of real amateur merit combined with the professional touch of many of the leading characters, who have had experience on the legitimate and concert stage.

Work with the various choruses has become intensive under the direction of J. T. McDonough, author and producer of the play. Many girls and young men, prominent in the city are included in the large cast of singers and dancers.

The Misses Veronica Mühaupt, Marjorie Matz, Rosanna Tondrian, Dorothy Adsit, Ruth Bernhardt, Loretta Schultz, Katherine Small, Grace Jabas, Clarence Giese and Aurora Mornau will be flower girls, while the Misses Genevieve Hyde, Lorain Palek, Dorothy Nehls, Clara Lempi, Jean King, Eleanor Schneider and Evangeline Wick will be show girls. The villagers will include Ruth Lacey, Murna Wickert, Kathryn Wolfe, Doris Waahs, Erna Lemke, Violet Johnson, Rose Lorig, Loretta Broemer, Pauline Hoffman, W. E. Strassburg, Ray Simpson, V. J. Wheeler, Arthur Holmes, J. N. Fisher, and E. O. Welland.

PARTIES

E. M. Smith entertained a party of friends at dinner Wednesday evening in the Blue room of the Sherman house.

A triple birthday surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. John Zebe Wednesday evening, when the natal anniversaries of Mrs. Priebe, her daughter and granddaughter were honored. Games were played and honors won by Gordon Kitzmiller. A toast was given the trio by Harvey Priebe.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Sunday school teachers of St. Matthew church will hold a meeting at the church at 7:30 Thursday evening. Routine business will be considered.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church will have its first meeting of the year at 8:30 Sunday evening. The program will be general but of interest to all league members and their friends.

Concordia choir will hold an important rehearsal at the school hall at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. A full attendance is expected.

Marriages License

Applications for marriage licenses were made Thursday to Herman J. Kamps, county clerk, by Albert E. Lemke of Appleton and Bernice Lampke of Greenville. Albert West, Jr. and Minnie Hennitz of Appleton, and Harvey T. Herman of Oconto and Lydia Bartmann of Black Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Tuttle and their guest, Miss Marian Parker of Claremont, Calif., left Thursday for a visit at Kalamazoo Mich. after which Miss Parker will return to her home.

CLUB MEETINGS

The Hi-Y club of the Appleton Y. M. C. A. held its first regular session Wednesday evening. This year it is composed of juniors and seniors only. Nineteen high school students were present and laid plans for the coming year, adopting for the first time for 1932-33 a club the report of the program committee. Reports of summer activities were made. Twelve of the club's members were in attendance at Camp Manitowish and brought back some ideas regarding Hi-Y organization plans and programs.

Over The Tea Cups club will have its first meeting on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. L. Marston, 650 Park ave. Mrs. George Fannon will read from "This Freedom" by Hutchinson.

Chairmen of districts for the membership campaign of Appleton Women's club will have a meeting at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. On the first day of the campaign, Tuesday, Sept. 13, there will be a paper for the chairmen and their workers at the clubroom at 6 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is for reports of the workers and to put enthusiasm into the campaign.

The meeting of Daughters of the American Revolution will be at 3:30 rather than 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. G. A. Ritchie, 461 College ave.

The Tuesday club held its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. A. Bloom, 551 Morrison st. Wednesday afternoon. Vacation items were given by the members in answer to the roll call. Miss Helen Schmidt had an interesting paper on the life and work of Edith Wharton and Miss Mary Peterson gave a review of one of Miss Wharton's novels.

LODGE NEWS

The Fellow Craft degree will be conferred at the meeting of Waverly Lodge No. 51 Friday evening. The meeting will be held in the Masonic hall.

Mrs. George Durdell was elected president of the Lady Eagles at the regular meeting at Eagle hall on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Louis Flotow was elected secretary treasurer. Winners at cards were Mrs. R. Rehlander, Mrs. Frank Schreier, Mrs. Henry Koester and Mrs. J. Kila horst.

Why Grandma's Linens Outlasted the Bride's

By JANE LEE
(Reprinted by Request)

She spends her months of loving labor in filling her "hope chest" with beautiful linens and linens, just as her grandmother did before her. But when grandmother married she made her own laundry soap and her linens lasted nearly a lifetime. The linens of today are as good or better than grandmother's. But the modern wife washes them with common white or yellow laundry bars and buys new linens every year. Her underwear splits and she calls it wear. Her sheets, tablecloths and napkins soon acquire mysterious little holes and she blames the materials or "wear."

The trouble is that women do not realize how destructive laundry soap can be. Fabric makers know that common laundry soaps are only 1/4 to 1/2 soap, and the rest of the bar is made up of "filler" without cleaning power—usually pasty water glass. This clings and crystallizes when the clothes dry, and cuts the threads like glass. Other "fillers" simply rot the goods—but the result is the same. So fabric makers wash their materials with olive oil soap and it gives them that cuddly softness, sweetness and snowy whiteness which every woman adores.

Careful women are learning to keep them like this and make them last as grandmother's did, by doing the family wash with pure GREEN ARROW soap made by The Palmolive Co. and containing—not "filler"—but real olive oil and naphtha.

Like fine castle, this large green laundry bar gets its color from the olive oil—nothing else. This bar goes nearly twice as far as the ordinary because it's all cleaning power, yet mild on clothes and hands.

THE MARRIAGE SHIP

Chapter 11 — Reconciliation is Sweet

By Zoo Beckley

SYNOPSIS

FRED, auto salesman for the Gypsy Motor Company, has quarreled with his young bride.

CONNIE, fresh from the country, over the apartment he has picked as their home. He rushes from the hotel to return three hours later repentant. Meanwhile Connie, worried, has telephoned to police headquarters.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

It was with thumping heart Fred managed to reach his floor and room. He plunged in, his eyes prepared for death and the end of everything.

From the telephone a disheveled figure turned its face to him, ghastly white and tremulous. Connie started through misty eyes at the man still clinging to the doorknob.

For an instant, each waited for the other to speak. Then with a sob and loving words, or—anything I'm a pig. I'm—oh, Fred, if you hadn't come when you did I'd—I'd have—died!"

Fred put back the hair from her wet face and kissing her tenderly, murmured:

"Dear little old kid, there's nothing to torture yourself over. I love you—you know it, don't you? I wouldn't—touch that apartment if they gave me the whole house for nothing."

She pressed her face hard to his. "I—I telephoned there, asking you," she told him brokenly, her speech shaken with after-the-storm sob. "You weren't there—but I told them—we'd take the apartment. It's ours, dear."

He held her a little away from him, as something inexpressibly miraculous and precious.

"You didn't! Whv my darling you know I don't want you to be any where you won't be happy and—"

"I'll be happy—with you—any where. The rest doesn't matter."

She hid her face against his coat. A sweet calm enveloped them.

"Listen, dear," Fred said softly. "We're going out into the suburbs tomorrow morning and find us a little white colonial cottage with shutters just like you want."

"It was Cunningham made me look at that apartment. It's full of jazz folks who'll buy Gypsies. But I'll get 'em anyhow. You don't suppose I'll live anywhere if my own girl—"

She sat upon his knees—they'd been in the one big chair the room afforded—and took his face solemnly between her hands.

"I don't suppose any such thing, Freddie!" She spoke firmly, eagerly.

How to Have Youthful Pink and White Skin

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Multisifed coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisifed in a cup of glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisifed coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisifed.

All your skin asks is fair play, all it needs for satin smoothness and radiant youthful beauty is health. The difference between a child's skin and yours is not one of years, but of health.

After many years' research and experiment, Dr. Guy Otis Brewster, the eminent New York specialist, discovered a combination of remedial and corrective ingredients which stimulates blood circulation and regulates the sweat ducts and oil glands in the cutis, or under skin.

He called his discovery OPAZEL. Its extensive use in Dr. Brewster's private practice has proved that OPAZEL restores, in the adult skin, the precise physical conditions present in the skin of a child.

Adventures Of The Twins

Comet-Legs' Misdad

The Twins were on their way up to the Moon when they met the Weatherman Mr. Sprinkle Blow, riding to meet them on his magic umbrella.

"Hello," called Mr. Sprinkle Blow. "did you find the Moon Man?"

"No," answered Nancy. "And we asked everybody we met."

"Well, hop on behind me," said Mr. Sprinkle Blow. "and I'll tell you what happened on the Moon after you left."

As soon as Nancy and Nick were nicely settled and the big green umbrella was turned Moonwards again, Mr. Sprinkle Blow told his story:

"I was in the engine house where

Mr. Peernabout keeps all the handles for running the Moon when I heard someone laughing fit to kill. "I looked out and there was Comet-Legs, the rascally fellow, who has caused all this mischief shaking some thing out of a salt shaker all over the Moon."

"Oh, that was the shaker with the magic powder," exclaimed Nick. "He stole it!"

Mr. Sprinkle Blow nodded. "And what do you suppose was happening? Every tree and stone and flower turned square the minute the powder touched it. I never saw such a sight in my life."

"What did you do?" asked Nancy. "Do!" exclaimed Sprinkle Blow. "I chased him. But wait till I tell you everything. When I caught him the shaker fell out of his hand to the ground, the top came off, and the powder spilled. The next thing I knew the Moon itself had turned square!"

"Then the little woodchuck baby was right," Nick said to Nancy. "and it wasn't a dream after all! What happened then, Mr. Sprinkle Blow?"

"I whistled for my Four Winds," said the Weatherman. "and they came hurrying as fast as they could from Bluster Gust Land."

STORM KILLS 27 HEAD OF CATTLE

Report of Damage from Last Week's Storm Continues to Accumulate

Special to Post-Crescent.
Oneida—Reports are still coming in about the damage done by the electric storm last Friday. Two barns and 11 head of cattle were struck by lightning in the northern part of the town and the southern part of the town, mostly along the Duck Creek, and a number of trees were splintered by lightning or blown down. Corn is lying flat from the heavy winds and orchards were stripped of their fruit.
Mrs. John Vanderberg and son Melvin have gone to Chicago for a short visit with friends.
Thomas Denny lost a horse in a very strange manner. The horse had been rolling and got against the fence in such a way it could not turn over. It was dead when found.
Miss Julia Goffard left Tuesday for St. Vincent hospital in Green Bay where she will be employed.
The Misses Mary and Marie Bentminister and Alberta and Ethel Cornelius left this week for St. Norbert college, DePue, where they will be employed this winter.
August Bauman has returned from Fremont where he had been looking over his boats and getting ready for duck hunting.

REBEKAH DISTRICT MEETING IS HELD

Attendance at Gathering in Kaukauna Is 106—Officers Give Talks

Kaukauna—District No. 14, Rebekah Lodge, held its third meeting this year in Kaukauna Wednesday. The sessions were much more largely attended than was anticipated, with 106 delegates from various cities present. Rose Rebekah lodge of this city, entertained the visitors and served supper at 5 o'clock in Odd Fellow hall, where the meetings also were held.
Mrs. W. J. Paschen of this city and district warden of the lodge introduced the state president, Miss Louise Noff of Oconto, the state vice president, Mrs. Gertrude Pohlman, Fond du Lac, and the state warden, Mrs. Lillian Greiling, Green Bay.
She also introduced a past president of the lodge, Mrs. Lillian Euenels, Appleton, who gave the response to the address of welcome which was offered by Mrs. Jennie Cooper of this city. The session and banquet halls were artistically decorated with colored paper and cut flowers.
Delegates attended the meeting from Appleton, Green Bay, Fond du Lac, DePue, Sturgeon Bay, Manitowish, Menasha, Oconto and Madison. The next district meeting will be held in Appleton in the month of January at which time the annual business and election of officers will be held.

New Boots Are Cause Of Near Auto Smashup

Kaukauna—Kaukauna, usually peaceful, was the scene of near riot Tuesday afternoon. The cause of the disturbance has gone, probably never to return, however.
A young lady, pretty and well known here, essayed to appear upon the main thoroughfare Tuesday afternoon, with the new style "Russian boots," as she passed the new electrical building, the near riot began when one of the city's most prominent jewellers' eyes wandered and he failed to see an approaching auto or heed its warning horn. However, the approaching driver averted a tragedy and the boots disappeared with no harm done.

Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should realize that mercury may salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not cramp or gripe. Every druggist handles it, and bottles are so numerous that the cost amounts to only about a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

Mrs. A. Arceneaux of Orange, Texas, suffered from constipation for six years and found no relief until she took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin; and Mrs. Gus Anderson of Ball, Kans., corrected her bowel trouble so that she now eats and sleeps normally. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years.

A Real Cord Tire for Small Cars at a Popular Price

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord in the 30 x 3 1/2 inch clincher type is a tire that the small car owner will warmly welcome.

It gives him, at a price lower than the net price he is asked to pay for many "long discount" tires, every advantage of quality cord tire performance, for it is a quality tire through and through.

It is made of high-grade long-staple cotton; it embodies the reliable Goodyear quality of materials; its clean-cut tread engages the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

The tough tread stock in this tire is carried down the side-walls clear to the bead, making it rut-proof to an extraordinary degree.

In every particular it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

Despite its high quality, and the expertness of its construction, it sells at a price as low or lower than that of tires which lack its important features.

VALLEY MAY HAVE NAVAL BATTALION

Former Appleton Man at Green Bay Gets Orders to Form Naval Division

Lieutenant Commander James H. McGillan of Green Bay, formerly of Appleton, an officer of the United States Naval Reserve force, has received orders from the Commandant of the Ninth naval district to organize a ship's company, or what is known as a naval division in Green Bay, and another in DePere, if sufficient men to form a company can be obtained. He will be assisted in the work by Lieut. Milton Smith.

Orders have been issued to send a 30-foot cutter with all equipment to Green Bay for the use of the company as soon as it is organized. If the company is organized at both cities, with a sufficient number to form a battalion, it is possible that a submarine chaser would be assigned to the battalion.

The naval reserve is an organization similar to the state militia, and is composed of boys that take training to fit them to serve in the navy in time of war. There is not so much required for drilling and practice. Each year they are given two weeks practice on the Great Lakes in a navy ship with full pay.

THE STAGE

Fischer's Appleton Theatre
It's a shame to speak your own little piece, but when you think of amusement or just a few moments of real honest of goodness relief of mind there is only one place in Appleton to find solace and a satisfaction that can't be beat. You don't want something that will bore you but serve to entertain and good pictures are a relief at any time.

Fischer's Appleton Theatre is establishing a reputation for a standard of entertainment that can't be beat and there is no doubt that the many patrons will continue to watch for any announcement pertaining to coming attractions because it is evident that the management of Fischer's Theatre is trying to establish a precedent, to please at all times and satisfy the likes and dislikes of all patrons.

The opening today is a picture extraordinary. Dorothy Dalton in "The Woman Who Walked Alone" a quite out of the ordinary story taken from "The Cat That Walked Alone" by John Colton. This picture we know will keep you just as well satisfied as the last two or three.

VICTOR DEALERS TO MEET IN CITY

Harry Stoffels Is Picked at Green Bay for Chairman of Event

Harry Stoffels, Appleton, was elected chairman for the next meeting of the Fox River Valley Victor Dealers association, formerly the Northwestern Wisconsin Victor Dealers association, at its monthly meeting Tuesday evening in Beaumont hotel, Green Bay. Mr. Vandenberg, Green Bay, was chosen secretary for the meeting.

The next gathering will be held in Appleton on Tuesday afternoon and evening, October 3, the date on which the eight Victor artists will appear in concert in this city. Victor dealers who are members of the association and their wives and as many employees as possible will be in Appleton for an afternoon meeting. A banquet will be served in Sherman house at 5 o'clock and the group will attend the concert later in a body.

Thirteen men attended the meeting Tuesday evening. Appleton, Kaukauna, Green Bay, Fond du Lac, DePere and Milwaukee were represented.

Urge Green Tail Lights To Prevent Accidents

The advisability of changing tail lights of automobiles from red to green is considered by many motorists and the state industrial commission has been asked to make a study of the matter. The American Engineering Standards committee at the request of the Illuminating Engineering society and the International Traffic Officers association has undertaken to standardize traffic signals and a report from them is expected on the problem of the color of tail lights.

For years the use of red lights on railways has been a signal indicating danger for stop. Moreover stationary obstructions on highways long have been required to be marked with a red light. The use of the same color for automobile tail lights is considered a responsible for many accidents. At a distance a motorist may think that a red light indicating an excavation on the highway, is the tail light of another automobile, parked on the highway and hence comes to grief when he attempts to pass on the left side of what is supposed to be another vehicle.

It is believed that yellow or green will be adopted as the color for tail lights. Green seems to be preferable for the following reasons: In railroad yellow indicates caution, and green is the signal for clear. Hence, if the glass of a green tail light is broken, which frequently happens, the natural yellow color of the lamp, would signal caution to the driver approaching from behind. This distinction could not be made if the glass were of a yellow color.

FRANCE CLAIMS LARGEST AIRPLANE IN WORLD

Rapahel, France—What is said to be the largest airplane in the world is about to undergo tests at the French naval air station here, on the Mediterranean coast. The machine is a quadplane, fitted with four motors each of 270 horsepower making 1,080 horsepower in all. The wings measure nearly 10 feet from tip to tip, and the machine is 21 feet high and 66 feet from back to front. It can descend either on land or water, and is intended for the future passenger air service between Marseilles and Algiers.

Austrians Pay $8,000 A Pound For Their Meat

Meat in Austria is selling at the rate of $8,000 a pound, that is, at the value of the Austrian crown before the war. Dr. L. M. Chapel of Chicago, who has been coming to Appleton on professional visits for the last 32 years, received a letter from his brother in Austria Wednesday informing him that meat is now selling at the rate of 30,000 crowns.

No country in Europe is in worse financial condition than Austria, it is stated. Butter is selling at 40,000 crowns. The present price for two pounds of bread is 4,500; Dr. Chapel said.

A commission of Chicago aldermen sent to Vienna to investigate municipal ownership have been absent a long time. The reason appears to be found on a photograph exhibited by Dr. Chapel and showing the aldermen drinking beer in front of an inn.

FINE FAMILY OF SEVEN OWE THEIR GOOD HEALTH TO FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

"We have a family of seven children and every one of them takes Father John's Medicine. We give it to them at the first sign of a cold, and in a couple of days they are entirely well again. Last year my little 8-year-old was dangerously ill with pneumonia and the doctors gave her up, but Father John's Medicine brought her back to health. We wouldn't be without it in the house."—(Signed) Mrs. J. Clark, 682 Haverhill St., Lawrence, Mass.

Thousands of mothers have proven that Father John's Medicine is the greatest body builder. Science shows that the reason for this is because the basis for Father John's Medicine has always been the purest cod liver oil, scientifically put together with other ingredients so that the rich vitamin content is easily taken up even by those who are weak and run down. adv.

Executive Secretary, Good Roads Association of Wisconsin.

"Fonda was garbed in smoke-tanned buckskin hunting shirt, trimmed leggings of the same material, a wolfskin capelet, with the animal's tail still attached, and moccasins of elk hide. He carried a heavy mountaineer's rifle with shortened barrel and a strap attached so that it could be slung over his back. A powder horn hung by a strap from his shoulder, while a belt around his waist held a sheath knife and pair of pistols, in addition to a short handled axe. Attached to the belt, also, was a pouch of mink skin in which he carried his rifle bullets. Tied by tongs to his horn were several charms supposed to preserve the wearer from harm. A flat tin box of cannister, covered with untanned deer hide, was the receptacle for the mail."

If one had travelled over the highway between Green Bay and Chicago 100 years ago probably the only person he would have met on the route is the figure described above. The description is taken from the narrative of John H. Fonda, who "ran the mail" between Fort Howard, Green Bay, and Fort Dearborn, Chicago, in the winter of 1826.

ALL IN 100 YEARS
One finds it difficult to believe that in the short space of 100 years the transformation we witness on the opening of state trunk highway 15 could have taken place. Today it is one of America's great arteries of traffic, beginning with Chicago, the fourth largest city in the world with three million people, and traveling the prosperous cities of Kenosha, Racine, the metropolitan city of Milwaukee with 300,000 people, and through Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha and Appleton, ending at Green Bay. In no other country the globe has such a story of transformation been written. Delving into the archives of the State Historical society one gets some interesting glimpses of the highway connecting Chicago and Green Bay.

Originally the means of transportation was by an Indian trail. It began at Chicago with alternate routes. The route ordinarily identified with the Green Bay road started at the north end of the Michigan boulevard bridge. It continued northward inland from the lake of which a glimpse was caught at only Goose Point. It ran 3 miles inland from Waukegan and about 5 miles inland from Kenosha and Racine. From Milwaukee to Green Bay there were two important trails which afterwards became important highways. The lake shore road ran northward to Saukville on the Milwaukee river, 4 miles west of Port Washington, then northward to Manitowish Rapids where it turned sharply inland and ran northwesterly to Green Bay.

HAD ALTERNATE ROUTE
The alternate route ran northwest from Milwaukee through Menominee Falls to Rubicon in Dodge co., where it turned due north passing the village sites of Theresa and Lomira to Fond du Lac at the foot of Lake Winnebago. It skirted the eastern shore of this lake, through Taycheedah and Brothertown, touching the Fox river opposite Wrightstown and following the southern bank of this river through DePere to Green Bay. The earliest accounts of the travel over the Green Bay trail are those of the mail carriers, usually a soldier detailed from Fort Howard, Green Bay, or Fort Dearborn, Chicago. The expense, we are told, of maintaining a mail route was too great for the postoffice department, and it was carried in summer in sailing vessels and in winter by mail carrier who made monthly trips, and who was paid in part by popular subscription and in part by an allotment made by the quartermaster of the fort. The round trip consumed a month. For food the carriers depended on game they might shoot, but by way of reserve they carried a bag of parched corn. The nights were sometimes spent in an Indian village, but more commonly out in the open.

RECALL MURDER
An interesting episode on this road was the murder of one Burnett at Theresa in 1836. He was traveling over the trail in company with Captain Clyman and they had stopped to cook their evening meal. Without any warning a shot rang out from the brush and Burnett fell dead. Clyman was wounded by a second shot but he escaped and made his way to Milwaukee. Later it developed that the murderer was an Indian who took this means of avenging upon the whites the killing of a relative who had been slain by a soldier at Fort Winnebago.

Coming to the period of the transformation of the trail into a road we find that the first step was taken by the federal government. It was brought about by the fact that it was necessary to connect the garrisons at Chicago, Green Bay, Portage and Prairie du Chien for the movement of troops between these points. The first military road in Wisconsin was projected to connect Green Bay with Fort Howard at Portage. Congress in the spring of 1830 made an appropriation of $2,000 but the actual survey was not made until October, 1832. The road surveyed by Lieut. Center ran up the south side of the Fox and along the east side of Lake Winnebago, being identical as far as Fond du Lac with the Indian trail to Milwaukee. Construction was carried on in 1833 by soldiers, the work consisting chiefly in cutting a narrow strip through the forest. Captain Martin Scott, famed in frontier days as a marksman, had charge of the 12-mile section east of Lake Winnebago, and laid it out straight as an arrow. It was long known as "Scott's straight cut." It could not be called a road today. Stumps stood in right of way and one was in danger of colliding with them and tipping over constantly.

BEGIN WORK
The road from Chicago to Green Bay had its beginning in an act of congress approved June 15, 1832, for the establishment of a post road between these points. Some preliminary work was done but comparatively little. Horace Chase, one of Milwaukee's pioneers, who with two companions left Chicago for Milwaukee in December 1834, states that they followed the route of the Indian trail and crossed twenty-four streams, "getting mired in most of them." Other early day travellers relate that the road in 1835 was still an Indian trail. Bishop Jackson Kemper records that as late as January, 1839 the stage which left Chicago at 2 o'clock in the morning required more than twenty-four hours to reach Kenosha, while the entire journey required 40 hours. Milwaukee was then a village of 1,000 inhabitants and was 3 years old.

APPROPRIATE $15,000
In the interim congress in 1838 had appropriated $15,000 for the construction of a road from the Illinois state line to Green Bay. The survey was under direction of Lieutenant Cram, an army engineer, who describes the route as chiefly through an excellent woodland district. It was 158 miles in length and from the Illinois line to Saukville in Ozaukee, a distance of 68 miles, the woodland was fairly well settled; between there and the Sheboygan river there were several settlers, and between Sheboygan and Green Bay, 63 miles, there was no settlement except at Manitowish Rapids. This was the principal mail route from the south and east to Green Bay, and over it twice a week the mail was carried to Milwaukee by men on foot. It was impossible to drive with horse vehicles farther north than Milwaukee. The survey called for a right-of-way 4 rods wide, banked in the middle to the width of fifteen feet. All trees were to be cut close to the ground in the middle while outside that only the smaller trees were to be cut.

The road from Milwaukee to Fond du Lac following state trunk highway 15, where it was to connect with the military road constructed in 1832 and 1833 remained an Indian trail until the winter of 1841. The people of Milwaukee then subscribed a fund which was paid to W. R. Hesk for cutting a wagon road between Milwaukee and Fond du Lac.

START STAGES
The first stage service between Milwaukee and Chicago was started in 1836. It was conducted by Lathrop Johnson who kept the New York House at Chicago and the stage was an open lumber wagon. In 1846 a tri-weekly stage service was inaugurated in summer and a daily service in winter. The journey was made in one and a half days with an overnight stop at Kenosha. Frink and Walker in December 1845, advertised in the Little Fort (Waukegan) Porcupine that four

Didn't Have To Gulp City Water Down This Year

The aerator installed at the waterworks plant early in July has been so successful in destroying the odor of the vegetable growth known as "algae" and in purifying the water that the department has decided to continue its operation throughout the year. This summer was the first one in the history of the plant that patrons were not obliged to discontinue the use of the water for domestic purposes during the month of July and August.

horse post coaches and stage sleighs would leave that place for Chicago each morning and for Milwaukee each evening. A rival line conducted by J. J. and E. M. Dennis about the same time made it interesting by announcement of a semi-weekly express service to Chicago with "carriages with steel springs."

This is a mere glimpse of early day transportation. Today one might say that the streets of St. Louis run to Chicago and northward to Green Bay.

Why the teeth of a child are safe with Listerine Tooth Paste

Paste makes your mouth water. The fruit acids of apple, grapes, grapefruit and orange are at work helping Nature in her own way.

Watch how it whitens and brightens your teeth

Procure a tube of this delicious dentifrice from your nearest drug dealer. The price is 25c. Give it a thorough trial. Notice how your teeth respond—how that natural white gleam is restored. You'll be delighted with the results and you'll want no other dentifrice from this time on.

It cleans but cannot injure tooth enamel

We have chosen exactly the right cleansing agent for Listerine Tooth Paste. It is a substance just hard enough to polish off the daily accumulations of tartar. Yet it is not hard enough to injure even the most delicate tooth enamel. You have that comfortable feeling of knowing your tooth paste is doing its work—yet doing it safely.

Made by the makers of Listerine, the safe antiseptic

Naturally, you would expect a long established firm like the Lambert Pharmacal Company to provide you with a scientifically correct dentifrice—or none at all. It took this company years to perfect this paste for you. We are sure it is right—and the price also is right.

"It makes your mouth water"

Latest dental research has thoroughly established the fact that a dentifrice should contain mild fruit acids to stimulate the saliva which Nature provides to keep your teeth and gums healthy. Soapy ingredients cannot do this because soaps are alkaline. They discourage saliva flow and bring on tooth decay. Note how Listerine Tooth

TEN STARS FAIL TO RETURN TO LAWRENCE GRID SQUAD

Official Practice Starts Friday; Many Seek Berths On Team

Quarter, Center, Guard Positions and Holes in Backfield Must Be Filled With New Material.

Lawrence college football prospects aren't as bright as what they seemed to be at first.

The campus sky which had been sunshiny all summer with the promises of many of last year's grid stars that they would be back for practice this fall turned into inky clouds when Coach H. D. McChesney started to count noses this week and discovered that at least ten stars have failed to return with the opening of school.

PRACTICE FRIDAY
While official practice doesn't start until Friday, Coach McChesney and Assistant Coach "Cub" Buck are outfitting the new candidates and have had them go through some limbering up exercises. In the midst of all the gloom in the campus there is a ray of hope in the wealth of material in the number of men seeking positions on the squad. At least 40 men have reported and although it is yet uncertain about the quality of the candidates there certainly will be no dearth in the quantity.

Among the number are four or five promising candidates from last year's freshman team and several promising new men.

Heading the list of the men who failed to return are last year's captain, Smith, Ziebell and Wheeler. Wheeler, who held an end position, has deserted Lawrence for Beloit, and Ziebell, last year's quarter is going to school at River Falls normal this year. Both of the men promised to be back with Lawrence but it is understood that offers made by the schools proved too tempting. Other men who will not be back are: Sorenson, guard; Brumm, tackle; Boetcher and Winter, halves; Stark and Northington, ends. It is understood that finances were the principal causes of most of these men failing to be back. Kubitz, who played halfback and makes his home in Appleton, is undecided whether he will don football togs. The Appleton lad is holding down a position in this city which he isn't anxious to give up. Ketchum, guard, is the only man lost through graduation.

MUST BUILD MACHINE
Most of the men who are coming back composed the regular squad and it will be up to Coach McChesney to build a new machine. Quarter, center, guard and hole positions will be filled by new men.

Of last year's men the following have made appearances on the field: Tackles—Captain Donald McGinnis, Blackburn; guards—Swartzlow, Hunting, Packard; ends—Doering, Holmes, Olson, Knapp; fullback—Grignon; halves—Basing, last year's star; Goan, Berry; quarters—Downing, Ruhleman and Roeber.

New faces and their positions are: Guards—Paul, Preston; center—Stuhenwall; quarter—Kotal, fullback—Curry; halves—Delforge, McCockle, Grover; end—McKeath.

PLAY SEPT. 30
The Lawrence schedule will open Sept. 30 with Stevens Point normal at Appleton. Carroll college will be next and is also scheduled to play here. The next week following is an open date. On Oct. 21 the Blue and White will travel to Beloit for an encounter with Beloit college. The game scheduled with the School of Engineering Oct. 28 has been called off. Coach McChesney announced Thursday.

Word was received from the Milwaukee school that it will not have a team this year and as the result of the late notice, the Blue and White squad is left in a predicament. Every effort will be made to fill this date with some other worthy opponent. The matchmakers are also looking for a game for Oct. 14. Northwestern college is due to invade the Lawrence field and Nov. 11 Coach McChesney will take his men to Ripon. The last game of the season will be played at Appleton Nov. 18 with Hamlin.

Lawrence, capped the "Little Five" conference honors last year and with the same leadership for 1922 the student body is looking forward for some new laurels.

Coach McChesney and assistant Buck have worked out a series of plays that they say can't be beat. It is a matter now of how quickly the new material can be whipped into carrying out the details.

OSHKOSH GIRL LOSES AT ST. LOUIS TOURNAMENT

By Associated Press.
Glen Echo Country Club, St. Louis, Mo.—What is regarded the most interesting elimination match of the Western Women's Golf association tournament was scheduled for Thursday when Mrs. Melvin Jones of Chicago, 1921 champion and Mrs. Dave Gaut, of Memphis, upon whom the south has pinned hopes of winning the title, were to test their superiority in the third day's matches.

Mrs. Jones defeated Miss Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, in Wednesday's play but Mrs. Frances Hatfield, of Milwaukee, a favorite came through in easy fashion.

Miss Wall, the Wisconsin state champion, furnished keener competition for the champion. Mrs. Jones, then was looked for. Both had very good medals for the first 8, Mrs. Jones going over the distance in 46 strokes and Miss Wall completing the same distance in two strokes less. Despite her better medal, Miss Wall was unable to take a lead, the match being all square as the turn was made.

MARINETTE HAS GREEN MATERIAL

Squad of Forty Practices Daily Under Coach Tom Johnson

Marinette—More than 40 men are out for practice daily under Coach Tom Johnson in an effort to make the purple and white squad.

Coach Johnson is confronted with the work of reconstructing practically an entire new team of largely inexperienced material. Many of last year's regulars have been lost through graduation, ineligibility or other ways and this cuts deeply in the purple and white eleven which copped the championship honors last year.

While the locals stake up with a fair backfield the line is gone with but a few exceptions. The two end positions must be filled. Kresky will hold down one tackle position and the other held last year by Martineau must be replaced. Other gaps left open on the line and backline are those vacated by Ucker at center, Wiesgerber at full, Hallen at end, Mike Kuchenberg at quarter, McCarty at guard and several others.

There are several aspirants for the various positions both on the line and backline but Coach Johnson will make no pick until after the first game. Saturday, Sept. 23 the locals will be seen in action in their first game with Sturgeon Bay at the Athletic field here.

PIKE STRIKES ANYTIME
I have found that the pike, pickerel, muskellunge and walleyed pike will strike offener than the bass during the midday siesta; this is probably because these fish are more of a rustler or barbarian type than the bass, or have simply an instinct of combativeness with which the bass is not inoculated as much as the other rougher fighters of the fish tribe.

At night fishing it is well to use only the floating artificials and those of white make the best lure for the night feeders. It is work enough to handle a bait at night that rides the surface not to add to the tough-luck possibilities by having the artificial go down and hook up with the many snags of the underwaters.

As the season crawls along toward the end we again find the fish feeding in the shallows, and the early morning and late evening fishing are in strong. At the real tail end of the season the morning fishing produces better than the evening, and the game fish having felt the touch of winter in the colder waters, stuck in the shallow waters for what warmth they can get from the rays of sun that burn down in the shoreward reaches. At this period the bass are mighty hungry and feed right along in an effort to fatten up for the long rest during the winter, when they hibernate, the large mouth digging into the seed roots and mud of the bottoms, while the small mouth makes for the rocky crevices until the cold waves pass and the warm sun brings them back to action in April.

A good rule to follow is to fish early and fish late, or fish all the time if you love the game and find pleasure on the water. Of course, it is not all of fishing to catch fish, but nevertheless, we all like to bring home a fair string to show the rest of the boys that we are "some" fishermen.

NINE WAUSAU STUDENTS ENROLLED AT LAWRENCE

Among the Wausau students who enrolled at Lawrence college this year are Margaret Bellis, Esther Fehlhaber, Gertrude Boyce, Helen Dodge, Dorothea Wells, Richard Evans, Jr., George Landon, Harry Sisson and Earl Weatherwax.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Converse and daughter Velma of Menominee, Mich., arrived at Appleton Tuesday, where the latter enrolled as a student at Lawrence college.

Wesley Pahl, who entered Lawrence college Wednesday, was tendered a farewell reception by 30 friends at his home in Merrill the previous evening. Games were played.

PAY YOUR INCOME TAX BEFORE FRIDAY NIGHT

The third quarterly installment of the income tax for 1921 is due on or before midnight of Friday, Sept. 15, according to a statement issued by A. H. Wilkinson, internal revenue collector for Wisconsin. Notices have been sent to taxpayers, but failure to receive a notice does not exempt them from their obligation. Failure to pay the amount renders the whole amount due and payable upon demand from the collector.

The tax may be paid at the Milwaukee office or at the branch offices at Green Bay, Oshkosh, Superior, Madison, and LaCrosse. Payment may be made by cash, money order or check. Checks or money orders should be made out to "Collector of Internal Revenue, Milwaukee, Wis."

WHITE SOX AND YANKEES SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER

Everett Scott Comes Near Ending His Record By Missing Train

Chicago—New York and Chicago divided a double header on Wednesday, the White Sox winning the first game 7 to 3 and the Yankees the afternoon game 6 to 3.

Scott, the Yankee shortstop, came close to having his string of consecutive games broken when he reported late for the first game. He had stopped off in Indiana to visit his folks and after missing his train arrived in time to keep his record intact.

Batteries: Hoyt, Murray, Jones and Schang; Robertson, Faber and Schalk.

ATHLETICS BEATEN, 6-5

Detroit—Although outlived ten to five on Wednesday, Detroit bunched drives to better advantage and defeated Philadelphia, 6 to 5, in the opener of the Athletics' final series here this year.

Walker, leading off, hit his thirty-sixth run of the season in the third inning.

Batteries: Schilling, Naylor and Perkins; Johnson and Bassler.

BROWNS LOSE TO REDS

St. Louis—St. Louis dropped a half game more behind New York on Wednesday by losing to Boston, 8 to 1, while the Yankees were breaking even with Chicago.

The Browns are now a game and a half behind the pace-makers, Burns' home run in the sixth, over the left field fence, which scored Mitchell, was responsible for the Red Sox's victory. Burns also brought Boston's first run with a sacrifice in the third, scoring Menosky.

While Sisler was reported as resting easy on Wednesday, his physician stated it would be inadvisable for him to attempt to get back in the game for at least a week.

Batteries: W. Collins and Ruel; Shocker and Seeverd.

WASHINGTON WINS

Cleveland—Washington hit Boone in the pinches here on Wednesday while Mogridge and Johnson held the Indians to four hits and Washington won the first game of the series, 4 to 1.

The tribe filled the bases in the ninth but could get only one run across.

Batteries: Johnson, Mogridge and Picinich; Lindsay, Boone and L. Sewell.

HIGH GRIDDERS PLAY KAUKAUNA OCTOBER 7

Appleton's high school football schedule is now complete. The only open date is Saturday, Oct. 7, has been filled with a game at Kaukauna. Negotiations between the Paper and Electric clubs have been on as early as last spring, but arrangements were not complete until this week. Coach Denney is gradually whipping his squad into shape. The first game will be played here Sept. 23 with the Manitowoc team.

HARD TASK AHEAD

COACH H. D. MCCHESNEY

With ten of last year's veterans failing to return for football practice, Coach McChesney, of the Blue and White, is facing no easy task if he wants his grid squad to duplicate the work of 1922 when his team carried off the "Little Five" conference laurels.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Professional football received a big boost when "Cub" Buck turned down the coaching job at Indiana and decided to paddle along in the boat that he was now riding in. The former Badger star had a great opportunity offered him but instead of running off wild, he remembered his associates and his agreements with them and, as a result, the Appleton Boy Scout director, is a bigger man than over in the eyes of his admirers throughout the middle west.

Naturally, Green Bay rejoices over Buck's turn down of the collegiate coaching job. The Bay worships its football team like Princeton does its Tigers and the huge Buck looms as one of the main links in a gridiron machine which this fall, should rank with the best in the country in the professional football world. Buck is that type of a footballer who makes friends, not enemies, on the gridiron and he would be a valuable addition to any pipeline.

The American league pennant race will probably be decided when the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns cross bats in the crucial series next week. The Gothamites are the invading team but the Mount City tribe will probably be going without the mighty George Sisler who is on the hospital list with an injured shoulder. This is a tough break for the Browns and it is quite possible that this bit of misfortune may rob them of world series participation.

Football comes into its own in the upper Michigan peninsula on Sunday. Nearly all of the eleven have been practicing for several weeks and the pigskin fans are all ago over the opening games. As in past years, it looks as if the Stambaugh All Stars will again rule supreme in the Minn. pigskin circles although Besscher, Ironwood and several of the other cities will have fast teams on the fields this fall.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Czar Worthy won the $10,000 Empire state trot, feature event on the grand circuit card.

Omaha—Captain Mosby won the 2:12 trot which featured the Ak-Sar-Ben races.

New York—The date of the Benny Leonard-Charley White match was advanced from Oct. 6 to Oct. 3 to avoid possible conflict with the world's series.

Louisville, Ky.—Pop Geers broke two records at once when he drove Sanardo a mile in 2:02 1/4 over a half mile track, lowering the track record and clipping a fourth of a second off the world's mark for a gelding pacer over a half mile track.

BRAVES ACCEPT DOUBLE BEATING FROM PITTSBURG

Cooper and Morrison in Good Form Give Bugs Pair

Boston—Pittsburg took both games from Boston on Wednesday, thanks to the excellent pitching of Cooper and Morrison. The scores were 8 to 1, and 6 to 1. Cooper allowed six hits in the first game and the Braves made five off Morrison. A base on balls, combined with Kopt's bad throw and four hits hurt Cooney's chances in the second game but apart from that his work was good. Fielding plays by Ford and Grim were features.

Batteries: Morrison, Cooper and Schmidt and Cooch; Braxton, Cooney, Huihan, Oeschger, Genivich and Gowdy and O'Neill.

GIANTS OVERCOME CUBS

New York—The Giants hit hard in the latter part of Wednesday's game and defeated Chicago in the first game of the series, 8 to 3. Nehf had one bad inning, the third when the first four men up hit safely and the Cubs scored three times. A wild throw by Hollocher paved the way for New York to tie the score in the same inning and the McGraw men won in the seventh, scoring four runs, three of them on a home run by Bancroft.

Batteries: Cheeves and O'Farrell; Ryan, Nehf and Snyder and Smith.

BROOKLYN WINS

Brooklyn—Brooklyn won the first game of the series, 3 to 2, from Cincinnati on Wednesday. Both Cincinnati runs were due to errors. Brooklyn batted in two runs on Rixey and got the third when Hargrave missed a perfect throw to the plate by Burns that would have made a double play. Roush's suspension for quarreling with an umpire expired and he played on Wednesday.

Batteries: Rixey and Hargrave; Vance and De Berry.

CARDS SLAP PHILS

Philadelphia—St. Louis moved into third place in the National league race on Wednesday by taking two games from Philadelphia, while Brooklyn defeated Cincinnati. Solid hitting in both games enabled the visitors to win 13 to 4 and 11 to 1. Meadows and G. Smith were batted from the mound in the first game, while Singleton was effective. In the second contest the Cards bunched at opportune times off Hubbell for all their tallies.

Batteries: North, Pfeffer and Ainsmith and Clemons; Hubbell, Singleton, G. Smith, Meadows and Winthrow and Henline.

HUNTING LICENSES EXCEED 300-MARK

County Officials Experience Rush as Opening of Season Saturday Nears

More than 300 licenses have been issued from the county clerk's office at the courthouse for the hunting season which opens one-half hour before sunrise, Saturday, Sept. 16. As hunters' licenses can be procured in different part of the county this number represents less than half of the total number issued. The exact number issued will not be known until all the returns are in.

Hunters are warned against shooting birds protected by state and federal laws. They are wood ducks, elder ducks, wild swans, grebe, loons, gulls, terns, herons, bitterns, woodcock, quail and pheasant. The only birds unprotected by law are crows, English sparrows, blackbirds, cooper hawks and great horned owls.

The hunting season for prairie chickens is from Sept. 20 to 24 in certain counties only, with a bag limit of five birds each day. Partridges and spruce hens will have an open season Oct. 4-8, with a limit of five birds each or a mixed bag of five Partridges are protected in Calumet, Manitowoc and Winnebago counties.

FREEDOM GUEST AT KIMBERLY SUNDAY

Tailenders Depend On Nelson To Bring Them Another Victory

Freedom, tailenders in the Outagamie County league, will invade Kimberly Sunday afternoon and incidentally confident of keeping up the precedent established by Dale a week ago, when the latter administered the first defeat of the season to the league leaders.

Manager Schommer, who does the catching for his team will have the same lineup that he used in the game with Interlakes. The Freedom fans can't forget the good work that Nelson accomplished last week when he sent 18 men back to the bench. They are relying upon Nelson to bring them out of the cellar.

Manager Behrend is hot on the trail of a pitcher. He will not use Haas, he says. He has several men in view and wants to pick a winner. Ryan, who with Fletcher Pagan left for the State league, may be on the receiving end again, but all this is very uncertain. Outside the changes in the battery the balance of the lineup on the Kimberly team will be the same.

TRAILING THE TEAMS

Although obtaining only an even break with the Chicago White Sox in the opening skirmish of their western invasion the New York Yanks gained on the St. Louis Browns who showed the effects of the absence of their injured star, Sisler, and lost to Boston 3 to 1.

The Pittsburgh Pirates cut down New York's lead in the National league to five games by pounding out a double victory over the Braves while the Giants hammered their way to victory over the Cubs 8 to 3. Bancroft's homer bringing in three runs was the decisive blow for the McGraw men.

The Cardinals went on a batting rampage against Philadelphia taking a double bill by scores of 13 to 4 and 11 to 1. Brooklyn nosed out Cincinnati 3 to 2.

The Athletics outlived Detroit but lost 6 to 5 while Mogridge pitched shut-out ball against Cleveland, Washington winning 4 to 1.

Everett Scott of the Yanks had a close call from breaking his record of playing in consecutive games when he stopped off to see his folks in Indiana while his club was enroute to Chicago. Scott telegraphed he had missed his train. He was not on hand when the first game against the White Sox started but he got to the park in time to take part. He played in both games and ran his string of consecutive games to 702.

The Cardinals were in a hitting mood in their double win over the Phillies, pounding out 17 hits in each contest, Hornsby leading the attack with seven hits in ten times up.

Ty Cobb, with three of the Tigers' five hits, was the big factor in Detroit's victory over the Athletics.

Ed Rommel star of the Athletics pitching staff was married Wednesday to Miss Emma C. Fahey of Baltimore.

The Pirates stole seven bases in the first game with the Braves, Maranville, Carey and Tierney each stealing two and Russell one.

CITY BOWLING MEN TO MEET TONIGHT IN EAGLE'S HALL

Program For Season and Selection of Officers on Bill of Fare

Appleton's bowling program, which promises to be the biggest in the history of the city, will be formulated at a meeting Thursday night of the Appleton Bowling association in Eagle's hall, 775 Washington st.

The gathering will be the second of the season of the devotees of the ten pin game. Sept. 5 at a gathering of about 20 representatives of the sport, the Appleton association was launched and temporary officers were chosen. Thursday night the final plans of the organization, including a schedule of games, rules and selection of officers will be taken up. The gathering will be in charge of Chairman J. F. Johnston. Other temporary officials are Clarence Currie, secretary and Oscar Kuntz, treasurer.

A membership committee composed of Fred Yelg, George Budoltz, Peter Berringer, Kurt Koletzke, Gus Kallou, George Jimes, W. Horn, A. F. Jones, Henry Steutgen and Leo Stoegebauer will turn in its first report on the membership drive launched last week.

Following Thursday night's meeting another meeting will be held with speakers prominent in the pin game.

MENASHA ASKING NEW SCHOOL BUILDING BIDS

All bids for the construction of a 10-room school in Menasha, having been rejected, the board of education of that city, is advertising for new proposals. The first bids were considered too high. Earl F. Miller, Inc., of Appleton had submitted two bids, one on the regular plans and specifications, and an alternative one. At the suggestion of Mr. Miller, the board decided to revise the plans. As a result, the will be substituted for brick, iron for No. 1 Southern pine and yellow pine for oak trimmings.

To Build Sidewalk

The contract for building the new cement curbing and cement sidewalk in front and along the side of the new Insurance building of the Aid Association for Lutherans has been awarded by the officers of the association to Robert Schultz. Work will be commenced upon the contract within the next few days.

contest, Hornsby leading the attack with seven hits in ten times up.

Ty Cobb, with three of the Tigers' five hits, was the big factor in Detroit's victory over the Athletics.

Ed Rommel star of the Athletics pitching staff was married Wednesday to Miss Emma C. Fahey of Baltimore.

The Pirates stole seven bases in the first game with the Braves, Maranville, Carey and Tierney each stealing two and Russell one.

New York—Johnny Buff, American flyweight boxing champion and Fanchito Villa, Filipino titleholder, were scheduled for a 15 round contest Thursday night at Ebbets field.

CHICAGO CHEESE MARKET

Chicago — The active inquiry of the beginning of the week did not develop into any volume of trade Wednesday as practically all dealers reported a very quiet day and as a result seemed to unsettle the cheese market a trifle in some quarters.

Regular trade even was reported quieter than usual by many. Stocks on hand were not burdensome, however, and dealers were not offering concessions in order to move goods.
